Headlines

Dear Parents/Carers

As we reach the end of another term, there is much to reflect on and celebrate. We were impressed with all of our Year 11 and 13 students who have been taking their mock exams over the past few weeks and we would look forward to the mock results day on Monday 14th January.

I am excited to announce that our Year 12 Mock Trial students are through to the finals of the Bar Mock Trial national competition which is due to take place in Edinburgh in March. Thank you to Mr Spurgeon for preparing the team and giving our students this wonderful opportunity. I look forward to hearing more in March.

Last Friday morning, I had the pleasure of judging our Year 8 carol singing 'sing-off'. All six forms have spent the past two weeks learning a Christmas carol, and each then performed it in the sports hall. I was given the judging criteria of quality, creativity and effort. It was a lovely start to the day, and the winners were Ms Haywood's form.

Thank you to the students and parents who came into school on Monday for our annual speech day. It was good to see so many ex-students return. We were privileged to hear from Dr Hannah Copley, an ex-student. Her inspirational talk focussed on resilience and not giving up when you have a knock back.

On Wednesday, 836 students had their Christmas lunch. All students were through the serving areas in 75 minutes! Thank you to Chris and his team in the canteen for the work they did in preparing and serving such a feast.

Yesterday was our annual 6th form revue. We usually sit through the first performance in trepidation of what surprises the sixth form will slip into the programme. Apart from students eating bugs and critters in the 'I'm a Presdaleian, Get me Outta Here', all went well. Thank you to the sixth formers and the staff who oversaw the organisation for putting on a great show.

Finally, thank you to our parent body for all the support that you have given us over the term. We wish you all a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Kind regards

Matt Warren

From the Governing Body

On behalf of the Governing Body, we write to thank the staff for all their superb work over the past year. Presdales School is very fortunate to have such a talented and dedicated staff team. Their work and commitment are greatly appreciated by governors and, we are sure, by parents/carers and students, too.

Our very best wishes to staff, students and parents/carers for a good Christmas break and for a happy and successful 2019.

News from the English Department

Recommended Reads for KS3

As a department, we are committed to encouraging all students to read widely in order to extend their vocabulary and broaden their imaginative experience. Year 7 and 8 students read independently within English lessons. One of the most common questions English teachers are asked is for recommendations of books to read. To help answer this question click on the following link for 'Recommended Reads Key Stage 3' for your daughter, a booklet with suggestions for contemporary wider reading produced by Herts for Learning and updated for 2018.

Year 7 students have the opportunity to use Scholastic Reader software in English lessons to complete quizzes on books they have read independently, which they can also do at home or at Homework Club after school in Room 30. Please find the link to the Presdales School Scholastic log in page below; your daughter has a personal username and password.

Thank you for all your support in encouraging your daughter to read independently.

Düsseldorf 2018

Ode to Düsseldorf!

Town centres full of light
 Twinkling, glittering, all out of delight
 Smells of Christmas, smells of smoke
 Whilst sipping on my half drunk Cola
 Chocolate museum, so much to see!
 What a wonderful place to be
 Nights at the hotel, so sweet and calm
 The warm, comfy bed sheets beneath my palm
 Swimming up the luscious water
 The time we have left seems so much shorter
 I don't want to leave,
 There's much more to achieve!
 Long coach journeys seem so short,
 And there are always more sweets to be bought
 I wish we could stay longer and see
 All the beautiful places there are for me!
Beth Barnes Year 8

I really enjoyed the German trip. It was a great experience. We did so many different fun things like going to Phantasialand, the most famous theme park in Europe, and the Lindt chocolate museum where we saw how the chocolate was made and wrapped. I really recommend it. Even the long journey is not bad at all because you are always stopping to stretch your legs or watching DVDs or chatting with friends. If I ever got the chance to go again I definitely would.
Amelie Powis Year 8

I once went to Germany with all of my friends
 It felt like magic,
 I didn't want it to end
 I thought it was pretty
 I thought I was dreaming
 All the lights around me
 Were beautifully gleaming
 I watched the light show
 But I could not record,
 That's annoying
 But at least I'm not bored
Emily Rhodes Year 8

I loved the trip. My favourite part was Phantasialand and swimming. I also liked going up the tower! We went to the Düsseldorf Christmas market on the night we arrived and after a good night's sleep we made our way to Köln where we visited the Lindt chocolate museum, the Christmas market, the enormous cathedral and finished our time in the city with a cruise on the River Rhine. On the boat we had hot chocolate and cake! Mmmm! Lecker! After dinner on the same day we went to the leisure pool with flumes and waves and black holes!
 On the third day we went to the Christmas market and the old town of Düsseldorf in the morning and to Phantasialand, the theme park in the afternoon and evening.
 Our last day came too soon! We went up the Rheinturm which was 168 metres high. Then home again.
Adelaide Peart Year 8

Dvd's on the journey!
 Use lots of money
 Swimming pool with water slides
 St Nikolaus came and we went shopping!
 Everywhere is full of Christmas!
 Lindt chocolate museum
 Düsseldorf
 Outstanding views from the hotel!
 River boat cruise with cake and hot chocolate!
 Fun! Fun! Fun!
Saoirse Slater Year 8

I loved the German trip because the food was nice and Phantasialand was sooo fun!! The rollercoasters were really fast. The youth hostel was nice and cosy and you had lots of space in your rooms.
Maddie Robinson Year 8

I found Germany amazing. I was always on my feet. We went to five different countries in ONE DAY! England, France, Belgium, Holland and finally Germany! We visited the Lindt chocolate museum and factory, lots of Christmas markets, a cathedral and a TV Tower. We also went to a water park, had a boat trip on the river Rhine and had an amazing day at a theme park called Phantasialand! I had lots of fun!
Lily Patmore Year 8

PE News

Equestrian Team

Ruby Barrs, Connie Harrington and Freya Naylor Stewart took part in the prestigious Royal Windsor Horse Show qualifier representing Presdales with its equestrian team last weekend. After competing in the showjumping class at a height of 80/85cm, there were two showjumping rounds of 90/95cm in height. The team were competing at a disadvantage as we only had 3 members in our team where the other 12 schools had teams of 4. In this competition the best 3 scores in the team count so, if any of our team made a mistake, we would have lost. There were many great rounds from those taking part, but it wasn't until the bitter end when they announced the results, that we knew the team had won! This now means on the 11th May 2019 the team will compete at Royal Windsor Horse Show in a Championship class, against schools from across the United Kingdom. If you would like to support the team at this very exciting event, tickets can be purchased at: <https://www.rwhs.co.uk/tickets-windsor-horse-show/>.

The next show jumping show Presdales is aiming for is on 19th January, taking place at Bury Farm, Slapton. Please contact Ros Naylor at rosn@btinternet.com for more information.

News from Drama

Thursday 22nd November Year 10 GCSE and A level Drama and Theatre students visited Cambridge Arts Theatre to see 'Wise Children'. The Production had transferred after a hugely successful run at London's Old Vic Theatre. This is previous artistic director of The Globe's first production in her new company also entitled 'Wise Children'! It is a great celebration of theatre in all its glory. The production features a live band with actor musicians impressively transitioning from instrument to stage! The production is an adaptation of Angela Carters novel and is brought to life with Puppetry, Dance and thespian humour! It is an uplifting tale which tracks back through the ups and downs of the lives of 75 year old Nora and Dora! The students were fully engaged and inspired by the talent showcased; they are now using the experience to respond in theatre reviews analysing the effectiveness of live performance ready for upcoming examinations.

Year 12 Mock Trial News

On Saturday 1st of December we were in the school minibus, 15 year 12 students and our teacher, Mr Spurgeon, on our way to Snaresbrook Crown Court. We had spent the past 5 weeks preparing for the Bar Mock Trial, a national competition where students take on real roles involved in a criminal trial including barristers, witnesses, ushers and clerks. We prepared by writing speeches, learning witness statements and preparing witness examinations for the cases we had been provided with. There were two cases in the competition. For the first case a man named Blair Forrester had been accused of preparing and carrying out an acid attack. In this some of us had prepared the defence and some had prepared the prosecution. In the second case, which was about money laundering, another group of students (including ourselves) had prepared both sides of the case to find out later which side we would be performing on the day.

When we arrived at Snaresbrook, we waited in the canteen with thirteen other schools until the first round began. The trials took place in real court rooms with real judges and barristers who scored the team on each element of the trial. For example, each speech had to be memorised and contain certain elements. Points would be deducted for reading a script or missing anything out; points were not deducted or gained for winning or losing the case. In the first round, our case 1 prosecution team went up against another school's defence team and won the case. In the second round, we found out that we would be performing the defence for case 2, which, unfortunately, we lost. Then, in the third round, our case 1 defence team performed. After this, there was a short break whilst they added up the scores to find out which schools were in the top two and we had lunch. Finally, they announced that the schools in the final two were Sutton Grammar school and Presdales! We were delighted and very excited to get through. The winner was to be decided by another performance of case 2 and, since both schools had been the defence in the previous round, there was a coin toss to decide who would be which side. We won the coin toss and so chose to be the defence again and the other team were the prosecution.

We took our places to perform for the second time, with much encouragement from the rest of our team in the audience. It was an intense trial with good arguments on both sides but eventually the jury (made up of four students from each school) went out to deliberate, returning with a verdict of not guilty and while this does not affect the scores, it seemed a good sign for us as the defence. Meanwhile the judge added up the scores. Then he came back and gave us all feedback, after which he announced that it was close but the winning team was... Presdales! There was much excitement and celebration; of all the fourteen schools that were there, we had never expected to be the winner. We were awarded our certificates and a shield by the judge and invited to the national finals in Edinburgh in March. The bus ride home was extremely celebratory and Mr Spurgeon even bought us doughnuts! We are very much looking forward to doing it all again in Edinburgh next year.

News from Psychology

Bethlem Royal Hospital Visit – Psychology students visit the oldest psychiatric institution in the world

On Thursday 29th November, Year 13 Psychology students visited Bethlem Royal Hospital, the oldest psychiatric institution in the world. Students were given an overview of the history of the hospital from the 13th century to present day, focusing on radical changes in understanding of mental illness and ways to treat them. Students spent time in Bethlem Gallery and Museum where they were able to view centuries of significant historic artworks and objects together with inspiring contemporary works by current artists and service users. Students were also involved in a creative activity where they were asked to analyse a famous painting called 'The Maze' by William Kurelek, a past patient of Bethlem Hospital. They found it fascinating to see how William was able to tell his doctors about his emotions and feelings towards a range of issues and experiences, both past and present, using one painting.

"The trip to Bethlem was incredibly interesting. It gave us all a great insight into the development of diagnosis and treatment for those with mental health disorders over the past century. The museum was amazing and the stories and art that have emerged from mental health patients of Bethlem over the years were truly fascinating to look at. The trip really furthered my interest for psychology and I would definitely recommend it for future psychology students – it's a one time opportunity!" – Jody Millross

"Visiting Bethlem hospital was both an insightful and thought-provoking experience. Insightful, as we saw displays of mental health treatments from the past such as straitjackets and padded cells, and thought-provoking in the way we attempted to figure out what aspects of William Kerelek's 'The Maze' painting represented. This creative outlet was used by Kerelek to show his doctors at Bethlem how he was feeling and it enabled us as psychology students to understand how symptoms of mental illness present themselves and how it leaves the sufferer feeling. I came away from this experience with a new perspective on mental health and a sense of gratitude for the developments in treatment of these individuals." – Bea Baxter

MYRIAD Project

A Message of thanks to Presdales from the University of Oxford

I would like to pass on my thanks to all the staff and pupils at Presdales from the MYRIAD project at the University of Oxford. I visited the school this week to help support the teachers in delivering a mindfulness programme to your pupils as part of the research. I was delighted by the welcome received by your staff and pupils. Your pupils have shown such respect and maturity during the lessons I had the privilege to visit and their politeness and general demeanour around the school was exemplary. I had a wonderful experience of what a friendly and caring environment a school can be. You can be very proud of them all. A special thanks to your front line reception staff for their welcome and friendliness throughout my visit. I'd also like to thank the kitchen staff for feeding me! And finally a thank you to the whole of the staff for their curiosity and interest in, and support for, the project.

MYRIAD is a £6.4m national research project funded by the Wellcome Trust and being carried out by the University of Oxford and the institutions above. It is being led by four professors, who are all experts in their fields. We are working with 84 schools across the UK investigating how schools prepare young people to improve resilience and manage emotional health during these pivotal years. We are collecting data from thousands of pupils. It will hopefully help to answer questions in this important area for young people and their ability to flourish and deal with the ups and downs of life. You can read more about it at the link below:

<http://www.myriadproject.org/>

A huge thank you must go to Mr Warren and Ms Chandler who have made it possible for us to work with you. Thanks also go to Mrs Bowman, Mrs Fry and Miss Silver for their commitment and enthusiasm in teaching this programme with such excellence. We are committed to providing high quality teacher training as part of MYRIAD so that we can ensure your pupils are getting the best possible lessons delivered.

I am looking forward to further developing this close working relationship between Presdales and the University of Oxford and will now be in close contact with the MYRIAD Research Lead, Ms Chandler, to help us with the next steps. Thank you!
