Why i have chosen the army

My topic is about the army because of covid 19. Behind the scenes the army is helping and supporting the country through this tough time.

Another reason why i chose the army is because when i am older i want to join the army and become a dog handler.

What the army involves

The jobs the army provides:

- Dog handling

what the army provides to the UK

The Army is a powerful fighting force defending and serving our nation by land, sea and air. Elite groups within the Army, such as the Army Rangers and Special Forces, receive specialized training for advanced combat situations.

How people can get involved

To get involved in the army is very simple.

1. Go to there website at <https://apply.army.mod.uk/how-to-join>
2. This take you step by step on how to join
3. Once you have read the instructions fill in the application
4. After filling the application start preparing for the assessment to make sure you are army ready to be able to join.
5. It is that simple, then soon as possible they will give you sit down talk to help you decide what career is best for you and help you achieve your goals.
6. Then your journey starts.

How it has affected your life

As I am too young to join the army it has affected me in a different way. The army has given me something to achieve and a goal to work towards. After lockdown I will be joining the army cadets to give me an insight to what the army might be like.

The army cadets is a club that is for kids that allows you to take part in different activities that you would normally do.

What some of the jobs will offer you.

VETERINARY TECHNICIAN

Animals – mostly dogs and horses – are an important part of Army life. As a Veterinary Technician, you take care of them alongside our highly skilled Army Vets. You work all over the world and deal with everything from injured search dogs to sick cavalry horses. You could be preparing an operating theatre one day and nursing hospitalized animals the next. It's great experience which can help you get valuable qualifications, and a job if you return to civilian life. When you're not building your skills and career, you'll have time to enjoy sports and make some amazing friends.

Qualifications- The Army will support and train you throughout your career, offering you considerable opportunities to develop your skills.

COMBAT MEDICAL TECHNICIAN

Could you work on the front line, saving soldiers' lives? Stay calm in the heat of battle and give emergency treatment? Get casualties off the battlefield as quickly and safely as possible? It isn't easy. But if you're brave and determined, we'll give you the training you need, a great career and the chance to gain qualifications. Plus, you get to join our amazing team in the Army Medical Services (AMS). You'll work under the expert guidance of doctors in medical centres, or in front-line bases, which can have difficult working conditions.

Qualification- Apprenticeship in Senior Healthcare Support Worker

- Level 3 Diploma in Healthcare Support upon completion of the apprenticeship, awarded by C&G
