Mana Island

ITINERARY

Theres lots to do in Mahe Island, from snorkelling to visiting holy temples.

Everything on the island is family and tourist friendly, you'reguranteed for a great time!

Some of the most popular things to do in Mahe include Tempo HIndu, a famous holy temple in Victoria, the daily Victoria Markets, the beautiful beaches with restaurants and water sports, along with much more. You can even get a tour around the island!

Tempio hindu, Victoria Markets.

PLACES TO EAT
The food eaten in Mahe is very diverse, with a range of cuisine from across the world, along with a range of seafood. There are particularly lots of restaurants that specialize in curries, seafood, and traditional British food. Across many beaches there are bars and restaurants, as well fresh traditional food being sold at the Victoria markets. Lots of the restaurants across.

Average temperatures in Mahe Island vary barely at all as its hot all year round. If you're looking for the very warmest time to visit Mahe Island, the hottest months are April, May, and then March, with the average temperature being 32 degrees in the daytime and 25 degrees at night.
If dry weather is what you're after,
the months with the lowest chance of rainy and stormy weather in Mahe Island are August, July, and then June.

Mahe has a range of villas and apartments you can stay at with an average price of $120 per night. Most have beautiful private or communal pools, and a barbecue area for its hot weather. You could even stay in a luxury cruise on the edge of the island from as little as $2000 for an 8 night stay for 2!

